Job-Beschreibung

Content Manager (m/f)

Sandbox Interactive is an ambitious Game Studio located in the heart of Berlin. Since 2012, we are developing the online game „Albion Online“, which has already established itself as the first truly cross-platform MMO for Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS and Android. With a player-driven economy, classless character customization as well as full-loot PvP fights as further core features, Albion Online is one of the hottest and most-anticipated MMORPGs with already more than 250,000 Founders and rapidly growing.

If you love to work hands-on as well as goal-oriented, we have a dynamic team with flat hierarchies waiting for you. Take the chance to work on an exciting project with the

YOUR CHALLENGE:

- Write interesting and engaging Community and Development News for the Albion Online website.
- Be responsible for implementing fresh news-categories centered around our community.
- Write and manage the creation of articles for our knowledge base.
- Manage a small team of freelance editors.
- Drive and expand the written content around Albion Online - find new and exciting ways to inform and entertain the community.

YOUR PROFILE:

- Excellent writing skills in the English language
- A passion for computer games in general and MMORPGs in particular
- Basic Photoshop and layouting skills
- Basic HTML knowledge
- Ideally with writing experience in a gaming-related job
- Bonus points for a journalism, creative writing, or literature degree

WE OFFER:

- Work on an ambitious cross-platform product, the scope of which extends beyond the commonplace of game design.
- Exciting projects with a high degree of personal ownership and the opportunity to grow personally and together with the company.
- Great company culture with a young and dynamic team of industry experts.
- Work in the heart of Europe's capital for start-ups and technology, with countless bars and other amenities nearby.
- Attractive compensation in line with industry standards.
