Your Crew

Your crew consists of highly motivated specialists from different fields, namely Artists, Programmers, Game Designer, QA - all working on one goal: to create a great experience on mobile devices as well as on consoles. In a relaxed environment where team members have the time to learn from each other, and everyone plays an important role in the development of our upcoming state of the art games.

Mission Briefing

- Taking ownership for the whole project and being a vision-keeper

Ensuring the delivery of the best game possible, in quality, time and budget
- Planning, control, supervision and documentation of game development processes
- Responsibility for meeting deadlines
- Process optimisation utilising effective conflict and time management and intensive internal & external communication
- Coordination of quality management and localisation
- Team management and supervision
- Project-related guidance of all teams and departments (management, marketing, R&D, localization, QA) involved in the making of the game in question
- Direction of the daily operations of the respective development team (including mentoring, early detection of potential risks, adherence to time limits and quality requirements)
- Estimation and adjustment of general strategies as well as specific game designs, game concepts and user feedback
- Validation and analysis of competitive products and industry trends

Your Skillset

- Minimum of 5 years previous experience in a similar position is a must
- Shipped at least 2 titles
- Steady in ownership and vision-keeping even under uncertain circumstances
- Verifiable affinity for video games and knowledge of the specific factors of success of mobile games
- Outstanding organisation and multitasking talents combined with the ability to meet deadlines
- Proven leadership abilities and strong communication skills
- Assertiveness accompanied with strong social skills and capacity for teamwork
- Strong ability to work under pressure and resolve problems and conflicts
- Experience in dealing with competitive requirements and priorities
- Very good knowledge of the English language (written and spoken)
- Self-contained, motivated and aim-oriented way of working as well as high level of self-motivation
