Job description

Sandbox Interactive is an ambitious Game Studio located in the heart of Berlin. Since 2012, we develop the online game „Albion Online“, which has already established itself as the first truly cross-platform MMO for Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS and Android. With a players-driven economy, classless character customization as well as full-loot PvP fights as further core features, Albion Online is one of the hottest and most anticipated MMO games in the market with already more than 170,000 Founders and rapidly growing.

If you love to work hands-on as well as goal-oriented and are looking for a dynamic team with flat hierarchies as well as the opportunity to take over responsibility and grow personally, then apply today!

YOUR CHALLENGE:

- Shaping our level design tool landscape and asset libraries.
- Lifting our level design vision to new heights.
- Organizing work flows and being a knowledgeable point of contact within the level design team.
- Implementing level designs in our editor using existing assets.
- Placing objects to the specification set out in our level design guidelines.
- Decorating levels using existing assets.

YOUR PROFILE:

- Several years of practical experience in game development, especially level design.
- Enthusiasm for video games, especially MMO's.
- An eye for aesthetically attractive designs.
- Practical experience with 3D editors.
- Strong communication and organizational skills.
- Practical experience in Unity 3D is a plus.
- A track record of having managed level design teams is a plus.

WE OFFER:

- Work on an ambitious cross-platform product, whose scope extends beyond the commonplace of game design
- The support of an experienced team of founders
- Exciting projects with a high degree of personal ownership and the opportunity to grow personally and together with the company
- Great company culture with a young and dynamic team of industry experts
- Working in the heart of Europe's capital for start-ups and technology, with countless bars, restaurants and other amenities nearby
- Attractive compensation in line with industry standards.
