What We Offer

Our relatively small company is characterized by its welcoming atmosphere. Our hierarchies are flat and decision-making channels short. We care deeply about the needs of our employees.

What makes working for northworks special?

We believe a professional, loyal, and friendly approach to work is highly important.

Our products are continuously improved through the work of small, interdisciplinary teams. Regular reflections on completed development cycles not only lead to the continual optimization of our working processes, they also contribute to the positive atmosphere in the team. Moreover, a weekly company meeting gives each employee the opportunity to share content with the whole company.

Our corporate culture

northworks is characterized by a highly welcoming atmosphere.

Being a relatively small company with around 30 employees, our decision-making channels are short. And our hierarchies are very flat. This enables everyone to contribute and assume responsibility. Interaction with employees based on strengths, as well as a positive culture of dealing with mistakes, are important to us.

What else should you know about us?

Besides an amazing team and a warm welcome to our modern offices, you can expect a
