Job description

YAGER seeks the talents of a passionate QA Technician to work on The Cycle (www.thecycle.game), an awesome and exciting new project with an international team of highly experienced and talented developers that are passionate about their work.

We're looking for people who love working in interdisciplinary teams in a fast-paced and professional environment. If you are organized, have excellent communication skills and are excited about working in a strong team culture where your voice counts, we have a great opportunity for you at YAGER.

You will work within the QA team and liaise with the QA Lead on quality assurance methods and workflows.
