Job description

As our new Senior Game Developer you will work on the frontend of one of our most successful MMO games. Farmerama. Collaborating with the artists and designers to bring gameplay features into our game, with your expertise, you create an awesome gaming experience for our players.

Farmerama is a browser-based farming game with a wacky spin on the genre. Players can grow plants and trees, rear animals and take part in regular events, all displayed with cute and funny animations.
The Farmerama team is open, friendly and welcoming. Everyone works together to make new events, introduce new features and make the game fun and long lasting. Regular team meetings keep everyone informed and up to date, and there are plenty of socials as well. The team works hard and plays hard, and prides itself on responding to player feedback in order
