Your mission

- You are responsible for the extensive and automated (Ansible) server infrastructure of our browser and client based online games
- You are open-minded towards innovations and changes to the existing systems and contribute to them independently
- You advise our internal product and project teams as a technical contact person
- You support internal developers and external game studios in planning game maintenances
- You independently carry out planned game maintenances, content updates, test system installations and troubleshooting in case of malfunctions
- You develop hardware resizings, deployment routines and automation concepts together with your team
- You will participate in the freely plannable on-call duty for 24/7 operations

Your tech stack

- Linux (Ubuntu & CentOS), FreeBSD, LAMP, Ansible, Ceph, Proxmox, KVM, MySQL, RabbitMQ, Cassandra, ELK, Git, Gitlab, Kubernetes, Icinga, Grafana, Graylog, Jira, Confluence, Mattermost

Your skills

- You have very good knowledge and experience in the administration of linux-based server systems
- You are familiar with at least one scripting language (e.g. Perl, Bash, Python)
- You have experience with Ansible and the automation of heterogeneous infrastructure of 100 systems or more
- You can immediately assign terms like cluster, web server, HA, databases, firewalls and containers and know how to use them best
- You like to work in a team and want to contribute and constantly expand your own skills
- You think outside the box, question processes and analyze potential risks critically

Your Gameforge setting

- An international company awaits you! English is our company language, as employees from over 35 nations are part of our team
- The future's hybrid! Together with your manager and team, you can arrange how you split your time working from home or at the office
- We support your personal and professional development! Language courses, teambuilding activities, seminars and more
- We have full transparency at Gameforge! We all share our ideas because everyone has potential
