support our team working on the meta features for The Cycle: Frontier, a F2P multiplayer shooter packed with innovation. You will join in an exciting development phase and be part of an experienced team that has a lot to offer and encourages you to grow with us together! Gameplay Systems Engineers build features that lets our users interact with meta game systems, such as level progressions, Season pass, shops, crafting and inventories. In order to do so, they have strong UI and general game development skills, and experience working with a game backend to ensure all operations are validated and safe. The ideal candidate is a Game Engineer who has extensive experience building gameplay systems to engage players and track their progression, ideally on live, online games with a strong multiplayer component.

YOUR MISSION

- Build Gameplay systems features such as leaderboards, live events, Season pass, level progression, crafting, shops and In-app purchases
- Work closely with designers, artists, UI/UX and other disciplines to deliver great features that are intuitive and fun to interact with
- Ensure your game logic is safe and properly validated on backend side to prevent cheating and exploits
- Write technical specifications, technical design documents, and collaborate with designers on game design documents to ensure they're technically viable
- Write clean and maintainable client/backend code and Blueprints
- Support running a 24/7 live game, following On-call schedules and investigating live incidents
- (Senior) Mentor junior and regular engineers, run technical interviews and own a significant part of our gameplay systems features

YOUR SKILL TREE

- 4+ Years of experience working on games, on PC, mobile and/or console platforms
- Experience working with Unreal Engine 4
- Fluent in C++, C# (or similar languages) and Blueprint scripting
- Experience building game UI using Unreal widgets, UMG and Blueprints
- Experience working with a game backend in a serverless architecture
- Multiplayer game experience, including dedicated servers, replication and client prediction
- A passion for videogames, and a general understanding of the industry and game design principles

Nice to have skills:

- Experience using Playfab, Azure Functions, SignalR, Redis
- Experience with testing automation frameworks
- Experience with UE4 build system, and CI/CD (Jenkins, TeamCity or similar)
