Salary Expectation: 300-500 USD

Hello, I'm from Malaysia and have already done remote jobs for around a year.

Having been an EN-CN translator to expand to the Chinese gamers market. I believed that my consistency and simple proofreading will be made of good quality.

I have translated a few games up to 5 so far which are indie based. Notable one's are Plantera. The rest are such as mobile apps such as The Match Land , Hortensia Saga and etc.

I'm interested on game moderating as well. Creating events, monitoring player's movement and such in 5 working days remotely.

It's better than investing or hiring a full-time worker because the cost is lessen and the pay benefits are much better , flexible skilled worker.

Interested. Do PM me @ sniperbilly2005@gmail.com if you have 1 time contract fee of translation jobs for your game.
